Dear Dr. Yang,

I am writing with pleasure to invite you to visit the ETAP, which is the world's leading electrical design and operations digital twin platform for infrastructure, building and industry. During December 6th to 9th, you will participate in a series of technical seminars on power system operation and modeling with high renewable penetration level. Also, we hope you will meet with our technical team to discuss the recent developments of the simulation techniques for renewable dominated power systems.

We understand that all the costs for this visit, which including but not limited to the cost of transportation, food and lodging, will be covered by China Agricultural University.

Your personal information is listed as follows.

| Name             | Gender | Date of Birth | Passport Number | Title and Organization                                |
