Dear Dr Jie Zhang,

On behalf of Wageningen University & Research (WUR), I would like to invite you for a visit to Wageningen UR from March 24 to April 2 in 2024.

The main purpose of your visit is follow the course Environmental Research in Context in which several perspectives and approaches to analyse and to solve environmental problems are discussed. You will find out how your own research project fits within other (multi-) disciplinary approaches and you will discuss the advantages and the disadvantages of your approach compared to these alternatives.

The programme of your visit will consist of:

- Visit the lab and introduce the researches of our groups
- Meetings in which we will exchange results on two academic papers and discuss the outline and synthesis of our project
- Research visits to colleagues that are relevant for our project

All your costs, including traveling, health insurance and accommodation will be paid by China Agricultural University. Travel insurance should be arranged by yourself, before arrival in the Netherlands.

If you need any additional information, please feel free to contact me.

With kind regards,

Prof. W. de Vries
